

FORWARD EVENTS DIARY

STRATFORD-UPON-AVON AND SURROUNDING AREA

2012

Welcome to Discover Stratford's forward events diary which we hope will give you an idea of the breadth and diversity of proposed events for the next 12 months.

Please check back for new events each month as the diary is constantly being updated.

How to use this Diary

The Diary will show events that we have on our events pages for the next twelve months. Each month will contain items scheduled for that month. This means that if you are looking across months you may see an event listed twice. We hope that this will make it easier for you see everything 'at a glance' and that it helps you to plan your visit.

If you have any questions please contact us on info@discover-stratford.com

THE FALSTAFF EXPERIENCE'S TREASURE TRAIL

Family days out can be an expensive affair. The Falstaff Experience in the heart of Stratford upon Avon constantly endeavours to find new ways to offer visitors value for money. The Tudor history museum has created a treasure trail around Shakespeare's Stratford. Plucky adventurers will be guided by the advice of the Tudor Detective who offers handy hints at the top of each page.

The trail covers a distance of approximately 2 miles and visitors should allow up to 2 hours to solve all the clues. The 'Murder and Mystery Treasure Trail' covers all of the main sights in Stratford and is the perfect introduction to the historic town. The trail is free to download from the museums website www.falstaffexperience.co.uk . Visitors are asked to complete the trail then had their completed map into the museum and receive a certificate and small prize. All completed entries will be then entered into a monthly prize draw for some exciting prizes such as merchandise, ghost tour tickets and museum tickets.

Creative Director Janet Ford said: "This trail which can be downloaded for free by visitors before they come to Stratford provides a much needed free experience. It is also good for the whole of the town as it allows visitors to see what is here ensuring they do not miss any of the fantastic attractions Stratford has to offer. We feel this will prove a valuable resource for engaging families when they visit Stratford."

Shakespeare Birthday Celebrations 21st – 22nd April 2012

The Shakespeare Birthday Celebrations have been taking place in Stratford upon Avon for over two centuries. The town's streets overflow with pageantry, music and drama and over the three day birthday period you can enjoy a packed programme of special celebratory activities - great days out at Shakespeare's historic houses, literary and music events and amazing theatre. Led by the Band of the Corps of Royal Engineers, international dignitaries, schoolchildren, performance artists and community groups come together in a colourful walking spectacle through town that culminates in the laying of flowers on Shakespeare's grave at Holy Trinity Church.

World Shakespeare Festival 23rd April – 9th September 2012

The World Shakespeare Festival, produced by the Royal Shakespeare Company, will run from 23 April to 9 September 2012, celebrating how the world performs, teaches and engages with Shakespeare. It will form part of the London 2012 Festival.

It will focus on the relationship between the many communities of the world represented in the UK and will include major collaborations between leading UK and international theatre companies, artists and large-scale premieres of international Shakespeare productions. Major UK partners already include the National Theatre and the Shakespeare's Globe, which will be producing its own Shakespeare project as part of the Festival.

Schools and communities across the UK will be linked with their peers in other countries, culminating in live performances at regional festivals.

The main hubs will be Stratford-upon-Avon, London and Newcastle, with further regional centres for community and schools performances, as well as touring and online activity worldwide.

The Festival will run from Shakespeare's birthday on 23 April 2012 until the start of the Olympic Games on 27 July 2012.

Alcester & Forest of Arden Food Festival 19th May 2012

Alcester really puts the flags out for visitors! There is nothing we like better here than putting out the bunting, closing the High Street to traffic and having a ball. And the Alcester Food Festival is the best excuse for a good day of fun. All the shops contribute, the cafes are on the pavements, pubs are thronged and the exhibitors given their all. There are cheeses, pies, breads, cakes, fresh and cured meats and sausages, fruit and vegetables, a pig roast and ox roast, handmade chocolates, local beers and wines and as many local food products as we can squeeze on to the stalls.

Shipston Wool Fair 31st May 2012

The Wool Fair commemorates Shipston on Stour's long heritage in the sheep trade - in fact the name 'Shipston' derives from the old 'sheepwash town', as for many centuries Cotswolds farmers brought their sheep here to be washed in the River Stour, and livestock markets were held in the town. Demonstrations of weaving, sheering, stalls, crafts, music, games.

CELEBRATE THE BIRTHDAY OF HENRY VIII WITH THE FALSTAFF EXPERIENCE TUDOR WORLD 26th June - 4th July

This year the Falstaff Experience Tudor World Museum in Stratford upon Avon is hosting a week long celebration for the birthday of England's most notorious monarch Henry VIII. Born on the 28th June 1491 Henry VIII would have been 521 years old in 2012. The celebrations begin on Saturday 26th June and run until Sunday 4th July. Visitors will be able to meet Henry VIII himself and some of his wives at various times throughout the week. Every visitor shall also receive a small present from Henry VIII to say thank you for coming to his week long birthday party. The museum is offering free entry to anyone who can demonstrate proof they are called Henry and as a special treat groups of 8 (must be 8 no more or no less) can enter the museum for an 8th off the price just £20.00. It is a unique way to mark the Birthday of England's most notorious monarch. There will also be a Beheading show at weekends.

Creative Director Janet Ford said " We love Henry VIII. He is one of our most popular exhibits and certainly one of our most recognisable characters. Stratford is a Tudor town and as a Tudor museum we see it as only fitting to mark this most famous of Tudor's birthday."

THE FALSTAFF EXPERIENCE'S TREASURE TRAIL

Family days out can be an expensive affair. The Falstaff Experience in the heart of Stratford upon Avon constantly endeavours to find new ways to offer visitors value for money. The Tudor history museum has created a treasure trail around Shakespeare's Stratford. Plucky adventurers will be guided by the advice of the Tudor Detective who offers handy hints at the top of each page.

The trail covers a distance of approximately 2 miles and visitors should allow up to 2 hours to solve all the clues. The 'Murder and Mystery Treasure Trail' covers all of the main sights in Stratford and is the perfect introduction to the historic town. The trail is free to download from the museums website www.falstaffexperience.co.uk. Visitors are asked to complete the trail then had their completed map into the museum and receive a certificate and small prize. All completed entries will be then entered into a monthly prize draw for some exciting prizes such as merchandise, ghost tour tickets and museum tickets.

Creative Director Janet Ford said: "This trail which can be downloaded for free by visitors before they come to Stratford provides a much needed free experience. It is also good for the whole of the town as it allows visitors to see what is here ensuring they do not miss any of the fantastic attractions Stratford has to offer. We feel this will prove a valuable resource for engaging families when they visit Stratford."

World Shakespeare Festival 23rd April – 9th September 2012

The World Shakespeare Festival, produced by the Royal Shakespeare Company, will run from 23 April to 9 September 2012, celebrating how the world performs, teaches and engages with Shakespeare. It will form part of the London 2012 Festival.

It will focus on the relationship between the many communities of the world represented in the UK and will include major collaborations between leading UK and international theatre companies, artists and large-scale premieres of international Shakespeare productions. Major UK partners already include the National Theatre and the Shakespeare's Globe, which will be producing its own Shakespeare project as part of the Festival.

Schools and communities across the UK will be linked with their peers in other countries, culminating in live performances at regional festivals.

The main hubs will be Stratford-upon-Avon, London and Newcastle, with further regional centres for community and schools performances, as well as touring and online activity worldwide.

The Festival will run from Shakespeare's birthday on 23 April 2012 until the start of the Olympic Games on 27 July 2012.

Stratford Mop Fair 11th & 12th October 2012

Held on 11 & 12 October each year, the Stratford Mop Fair is a tradition that can be traced back hundreds of years. On this day the streets in the town centre are closed to traffic, and filled with funfair rides, stalls and tents. The fair is opened by the mayor who holds a pig roast and the mayor is then led around the fair by the master of the mop. On the first morning of the fair, local children can enjoy rides free of charge.
